Global Mobility and Common Standards – do we need to go there? do we want to?

INPTRA international regulatory conference

Singapore

April 29-30, 2015
Getting to know you....
Who are you? Where are you from?

• Please let me know if you are from Singapore? Or from one of the other ASEAN countries?
• From other parts of Asia? or Australia/New Zealand?
• Africa or South America?
• Europe or North America?
What do you do?

• How many of you are regulators or have your work associated with the regulation of PT?
• Do any of you work for credentialling or assessment bodies?
• How many are practicing physiotherapists – either in addition to your day job? Or exclusively?
• Who is not? What do you do?
Why?

• I work in credentialling and I need to solve this issue for my own regulator
• I am a regulator concerned with all sorts of global policy issues
• My boss said I had to
• The zoo was still closed
One common standard?
1. Marc Seale – the EU Physiotherapy Professional card
2. Janice Mueller and Kathy Grudzinskas
3. Raul Augustin – the ASEAN agreement
4. Dianne Millette – lessons from Canada
Over to you......

1. Are there benefits to a common standard? If so, what are they?
2. How can within-country mobility translate to lessons for international mobility?
3. Do we need two common standards?
4. What is the role of accreditation standards?
5. What resources could help?
